To Whom It May Concern,

It is my genuine pleasure to recommend Ian Hall. I had the privilege of supervising Ian during his five-month tenure as a Project Engineer Co-op at Ulliman Schutte Construction, and I can say without hesitation that he has been one of the most impressive co-ops I have had the opportunity to supervise.

From his very first days on the job, Ian demonstrated an outstanding work ethic and a self-starter mentality that is rare in someone at his stage of career. He consistently took initiative without needing to be directed, identifying what needed to be done and getting it done with minimal oversight. He approached every task with professionalism and a positive attitude, no matter the scope or complexity of the work.

Ian's ability to learn new tasks quickly stood out throughout his time with us. Construction and project engineering involve constantly evolving challenges, and Ian adapted smoothly and confidently each time he was introduced to something new. He was also someone our team could genuinely rely on — when Ian was assigned a task, you knew it would be completed thoroughly and on time.

On the technical side, Ian demonstrated strong proficiency in both Microsoft Excel and AutoCAD, tools that are critical to day-to-day project engineering work. He applied these skills practically and effectively, contributing meaningfully to project documentation, design coordination, and field support tasks.

Beyond his individual capabilities, Ian was a valued team player. He built strong working relationships with colleagues at all levels and always brought a collaborative spirit to the job site and the office. His positive energy and genuine commitment to the team's success made him a pleasure to have around.

I have full confidence that Ian will bring the same dedication, talent, and character to any organization lucky enough to have him. I recommend him enthusiastically and without reservation. Please feel free to reach out if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

James Clark
